

The Coach House

The Old Coachhouse is an attractive early C19th Cotswold Stone building which was originally a stable with trap house above and an adjoining Victorian potting shed. The accommodation now comprises two bedrooms (sleeping 2 to 5 people), a sitting/dining room, bathroom, hall and kitchen. The furnishings are in keeping with the cottage; comfortable, pretty, homely and spotlessly clean but it is neither luxurious nor over-spacious!

Our visitors tell us how much they love our cottage and the surrounding area and many return year after year.

On the Ground Floor:

Sitting room: 13" x 11". A very cosy room - heating being provided by a small but very efficient wood burning stove (kindling wood free - fuel £6 per bag). There are also electric radiators that we keep on all through the winter months. A pine stable door leads to the garden and a narrow wrought iron spiral staircase leads up to the main bedroom.

The ceiling is beamed and the room is lit by wall lights and lamps. The original 'blue-brick' stable floor is mostly covered by a thick rug. The furnishings are simple but comfortable: a dralon cottage suite seating 5 people, a pine table (cloths provided) with 4 dining chairs, pine cupboards and a coffee table. (High chair and baby / dog gates available). There is a combined tele-video (+ video library) and a radio cassette player. There is no telephone to the cottage, but we will be very happy to take messages.

Kitchen: 11'3" x 6'6" (max). The kitchen is small but very well equipped. There are pine cupboards, chef's trolley, shelves and adequate work-surface space. There is a small dishwasher, refrigerator, eye-level electric oven plus separate 4 ring hob, a microwave, Tefal portable oven/grill, a toaster, electric kettle and an electric hand-mixer. There is also freezer space and laundry facilities close to the cottage. (Tea-towels are provided)

Entrance Hall: Has a cool tile floor and a pine stable door leads to the garden and pool. The hall makes an ideal bedroom for 'Fido'. There is a free standing baby-gate that you can fit across the door so that your pets can still see you in the rest of the cottage. Electric radiator)
